

WOULD REWARD BRAVE RESCUERS

CROWN PRINCE FREDERICK.

Berlin, Feb. 19.—Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm has petitioned his imperial father, the emperor, to exercise his authority as commander-in-chief of the German army by rewarding with a lieutenant's commission the young private who saved the crown prince from a machine, named Saloman, who attempted to assassinate him.

The heir to the German throne as he was leaving his palace. The young squire on guard at the carriage entrance intimidated the would-be assassin just as the latter was about to spring at the crown prince, and after a brief struggle subdued him. The crown prince was most offensive in his praise of the private's action.

LONG PROCESSION OF TRAINS FROM THE WEST

First of Stranded Fliers Reaches Albuquerque at Noon Today With Half a Dozen to Follow Tonight.

RUMOR OF FATAL WRECK ON SANTA FE AT HISPERIA

That the blockade caused by the recent floods in southern California had been at least partially broken was indicated by the arrival here at noon today of one of the eastbound limited trains which left Los Angeles last Friday. The train reached here just 65 hours late. Passengers and crew tell a story of the latest floods which show that the press reports have been in no way exaggerated. The train here today was stranded well out in the country and for a time was seriously short of provisions.

Members of the through crew on this train heard rumors of a fatal wreck of a part of a Salt Lake train at Hesperia just as they were leaving. The statement was to the effect that a bridge on the Santa Fe line which was being used by the Salt Lake train gave in just as the observation car was passing over, and that three passengers, all women, were fatally hurt. There has been no report of this accident, and the trainmen here had heard only a rumor.

Six of the delayed trains are scheduled to reach Albuquerque this afternoon between four and seven o'clock.

BURROS GRAZED ON SITE OF HOTEL ALVARADO

Old "Eight Spot" Locomotive and Pictures of Local "Old Timers" Feature Interesting Display at Cobb Studio.

Every resident of Albuquerque—and more particularly the "old-timers"—will find much of interest and of entertainment in a most valuable collection of photographic prints which have been placed on special display at the Cobb studio at 210 West Gold avenue.

The pictures cover a period of thirty years and have been placed on display by Mrs. Cobb preliminary to the destruction of the negatives, which have accumulated to a burdensome extent. The collection includes portraits of many of the city's most prominent citizens of an earlier day—men like Mayor Jaffa, Albert Grunsfeld, Capt. Jack Crawford, the flagpole erected by Kit Carson, and there are several pictures which show burros browsing on the land now occupied by the Alvarado hotel. In a word, the Cobb collection is a most interesting and amusing photographic history of Albuquerque during the past thirty years.

When you buy a new machine you want to be sure that it will do the work for which it is intended, and save you that labor. It is the same way with a remedy. You want to be sure that it will do the work. In case of rheumatism, the afflicted parts can be rubbed for hours, which will bring relief, but leave you exhausted with the effort. An application of Sloan's Liniment does the work for you, no rubbing, just lay it on and you have the same result with no hard work on your part. It is so soothing, so warm and comforting. Goes right to the sore spot and drives away the excruciating pain. Better get a bottle today. 25c and 50c. All druggists. Sloan's Liniment kills pain.

Miss Florence Palmstrom, English teacher last year in the high school, has been engaged to take the place of Miss Rose Anna Gray, who has resigned on account of the death of her sister. Miss Palmstrom will commence her new duties tomorrow.

Allan H. Waas leaves tonight for his home in Oakland, California, after a visit of ten days here looking after local business interests.

MUSTEROLE Loosens Up Congestion From Colds

Just rub it briskly on the chest and throat tonight, and get the soothing relief of this clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard, given by the old-time mustard plaster used to blister. MUSTEROLE doesn't. That's why millions are now using it with such comforting results. It breaks up a cold quicker than any mustard plaster you ever saw.

Best for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Stomach Ailments, Chills, Chills, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it prevents Pneumonia).

At your druggist's, in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50. Sold by druggists everywhere. Accept no substitute. If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the MUSTEROLE Company, Cleveland, O., and we will mail you a jar, postage prepaid.

Miss M. Speers, Graduate Nurse, St. Petersburg, Florida, says: "I have found it excellent for everything that has anything to do with colds or rheumatic affections. I am a professional nurse and this product is better than any thing I ever saw."

DON'T NEED JUSTICE OF THE PEACE OR MINISTER

Contract Marriage Just as Good in New Mexico, Says Assistant Attorney General in Interesting Opinion.

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 24.—In response to anxious inquiries from some couples at Corona, N. M., who feared they had not been legally joined in wedlock after finding that the justice of the peace who married them was no justice of the peace, the assistant attorney general has promulgated an opinion to the effect that you can be safely and solidly and permanently married in New Mexico whether or not you have the services of a minister or a legally qualified magistrate. The opinion follows:

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 21, 1914. Mr. J. M. Alkinson, Corona, N. M. Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of your letter of the 18th inst., in which you inquire as to the legality of a ceremony performed by a person claiming to be a justice of the peace, but who, subsequent to his re-election as such justice failed to execute a bond as required by law.

Section 1414 of the Compiled Laws of 1907 makes it lawful to all intents and purposes, "for those who may so desire" to solemnize the contract of matrimony by means of any ordained clergyman, or by means of any civil magistrate. Section 1415 of the same compilation defines marriage as a civil contract, for which the consent of the contracting parties, capable in law of contracting, is essential. From the foregoing, you will see that it is not absolutely essential that a man and woman, who desire to enter into a marriage contract, should have the same solemnized by a minister of the gospel or a justice of the peace but "those who may so desire," can employ the services of a clergyman or civil magistrate.

The fact that the justice of the peace to whom you refer, at the time of the performance by him of a marriage ceremony, had failed to file his bond as required by law, will in no way vitiate the marriage contract or render the same void. I assume that any such marriage ceremonies performed by him were so performed by virtue of the license required by our statute, and such celebrations of marriages are now of record in the county clerk's office. In case a question should ever arise as to the legality of such a marriage, this record could be produced as evidence thereof, but even in the event that there had never been any record made the marriage could still be proved by witnesses other than the so-called officer, or by himself.

In the case of Holder vs. State, 29 S. W. 793, it was set up by Holder and proved by him, that a marriage ceremony was performed between him and one Rose Cleveland by a person named Roberts, who was not an ordained minister of the gospel at the time he performed such marriage ceremony. This fact being established, the court held that the marriage was valid.

published, the contention was made that the marriage was a nullity. The supreme court of Texas very wisely took an opposite view and in its opinion made use of the following language in referring to statutes similar to ours:

"Such statutes are merely directory, and are a thing of common right, so recognized by all civilized countries in all ages, and is encouraged by public policy. A rule of construction as contained for by appellant would bastardize children whose parents believed they were legally married, and who were not conscious of violating any law, human or divine, and who believed they had entered into the marital relations without coming in conflict with the provisions of statutory enactments. Such a rule, we think, fraught with consequences fearful to the interest of society, would tend to food the courts with litigation, unsettle property rights and disturb settled rights of inheritance. We can not agree to such a rule of construction. Our statute does not render null or prescribe penalties against marriages not entered into under the terms thereof."

We have no statute in New Mexico declaring that marriages not celebrated by ordained clergyman or civil magistrates shall be void, and it is undoubtedly a fact that what are known as common law marriages are valid in this state.

The supreme court of the United States has passed upon this question in the case of Melzer vs. Moore, 96 U. S. 76. In that case the learned court held that it was not essential that a minister or a magistrate should be present at the time of the entering into of such a contract and further said:

"Marriage is everywhere regarded as a civil contract. Statutes in many of the states, it is true, regulate the mode of entering into the contract, but they do not confer the right, hence they are not within the principle that, where a statute creates a right and provides a remedy for its enforcement, the remedy is exclusive. No doubt, a statute may take away a common law right; but there is always a presumption that the legislature has no such intention, unless it be plainly expressed. A statute may declare that no marriages shall be valid unless they are solemnized in a prescribed manner; but such an enactment is a very different thing from a law requiring all marriages to be entered into in the presence of a magistrate or a clergyman, or that it be preceded by a license, or publication of banns, or be attested by witnesses. Such formal provisions may be construed as merely directory instead of being treated as destructive of a common-law right to form the marriage relation by words of present assent. And such, we think, has been the rule generally adopted in construing statutes regulating marriage. Whatever direction they may give respecting its formation or solemnization courts have usually held a marriage good at common law to be good notwithstanding the statutes, unless they contain express words of nullity."

JOY UNLOADS BIG PACKARD CAR HERE

Mayor Sellers Misses a Bet When Detroit Manufacturer Goes Through to Socorro on Way to Coast.

Mayor Sellers for once has missed a bet. Saturday the mayor's mail contained a letter from H. B. Joy, president of the Packard Motor Car company, stating that he expected to be in Albuquerque the latter part of the week. The mayor thought the letter meant the present week, whereas as Mr. Joy meant the latter part of last week. The big automobile manufacturer, who is also president of the Lincoln Highway association, unloaded a giant $7,000 Packard touring car here last Saturday night, the car arriving by express on train No. 7. The car was unloaded in the lower yards and Mr. Joy left in it the following morning for Socorro, whence he expects to go across country to Phoenix.
